

FREE SAMPLER — 3 MEALS TO START TODAY

When Nothing Sounds Good

Three chef-built meals for low appetite and changing hunger.

PROTEIN. FIBER. SATISFACTION.

WELCOME

Three meals for right now.

This sampler gives you three complete Protein Flip™ meals to make this week. One cold breakfast you can assemble in minutes. One five-minute savory plate with no stove required. One dinner that works for the whole table, plated two ways so every appetite is covered.

How the Protein Flip™ method works.

Every meal in this sampler builds from multiple protein sources rather than stacking everything into one. A primary protein anchors the plate. One or more supporting proteins contribute alongside it, usually with a different texture or flavor. Fiber-rich ingredients do two jobs at once: they add structure and make the meal more satisfying without adding effort.

The result is a plate that feels complete even when appetite is low. No single ingredient has to carry everything.

How to use this sampler.

1. Pick one meal. Start with whichever of the three sounds most appealing right now. That is the right answer.

2. Check the ingredients. Each meal uses familiar ingredients, with a complete shopping list on page 7.

3. Use the chef tip. One small technique makes each meal taste finished, not just assembled. It takes ten seconds.

4. Try the next one. Once you have made all three, you will have a working sense of how the method feels. The full 20-meal guide builds from there.

The right meal is the one that sounds good enough to make and complete enough to satisfy.

MEAL ONE • COLD BREAKFAST

Berry, Oat and Greek Yogurt Spoon Bowl.

No stove. No cooking. Assembles in under three minutes. Built for mornings when warmth and time are both off the table.

1 | Berry, Oat and Greek Yogurt Spoon Bowl

Mix 1/2 cup plain Greek yogurt, 1/4 cup cooked cooled oats, 1/4 cup berries, and 1 tsp ground flax. Finish with cinnamon.

Protein Flip™: Primary: yogurt. Supporting: oats and flax. Fiber: oats, berries, flax.

Chef tip: Layer the berries on top; their fresh taste cuts through the creamy base.

What you need.

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT	NOTE
Plain Greek yogurt	1/2 cup	Low-fat. Thick and high in protein without the extra fat.
Rolled oats, cooked and cooled	1/4 cup	Cook a batch the night before and refrigerate. They are ready to use cold all week.
Fresh or frozen berries	1/4 cup	Any berry works. Frozen berries thawed overnight add a little extra juice to the bowl.
Ground flaxseed	1 tsp	Adds fiber and a mild nutty finish. Already ground is easiest.
Cinnamon	Pinch	Just enough to connect the flavors. Add after layering.

Why this works.

Yogurt and oats each bring protein. Oats, berries, and flax each bring fiber. The cinnamon finish makes the bowl taste intentional rather than assembled. It is a complete meal in a cup that takes less effort than opening an app.

MEAL TWO • FIVE-MINUTE SAVORY PLATE

Mediterranean Lentil, Feta and Yogurt Plate.

No stove. No heat required. Every ingredient is ready to use. This is the plate for midday when appetite is low and decisions feel hard.

8 | Mediterranean Lentil, Feta and Yogurt Plate

Combine 1/2 cup cooked lentils, 1 tbsp feta, 2 tbsp chopped roasted pepper, 2 tbsp Greek yogurt, and oregano.

Protein Flip™: Primary: lentils. Supporting: feta and yogurt. Fiber: lentils and pepper.

Chef tip: Toss lentils with oregano and olive oil first. Add yogurt last for creamy contrast.

What you need.

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT	NOTE
Cooked lentils	1/2 cup	Green or brown lentils from a can or cooked in advance. Rinse and drain.
Crumbled feta	1 tbsp	A small amount goes far. It is salty, so taste before adding more.
Roasted red peppers, chopped	2 tbsp	Jarred is fine. Pat dry before using so the plate does not get watery.
Plain Greek yogurt	2 tbsp	Low-fat. Spooned on last. Acts as a sauce, not a topping.
Dried oregano	Pinch	Toss with the lentils first so the flavor distributes.
Olive oil	Drizzle	A small amount finishes the lentils and brings everything together.

Why this works.

Lentils anchor the plate with both protein and fiber. Feta and yogurt each contribute additional protein alongside it, one crumbled and one creamy. The roasted pepper brings sweetness and color. Nothing needs to be cooked, and the whole plate comes together in the time it takes to find a menu.

MEAL THREE • FAMILY DINNER

Lemon Chicken, White Beans and Carrots.

One connected dinner plated two ways. The Portion Smart plate and the family portion use the same ingredients. Only the amounts differ.

The recipe.

Roast chicken thighs, sliced carrots, oregano, and lemon at 400°F until the chicken reaches 165°F, about 35 minutes. Warm cannellini beans in the pan juices for the last five minutes. Finish with a spoonful of parsley yogurt: plain Greek yogurt mixed with chopped parsley and a pinch of salt.

Chef tip: Dress the beans with the chicken pan juices so the ingredients feel like one dish rather than separate components.

Protein Flip™ structure.

PRIMARY PROTEIN	Chicken thighs. The anchor. Roasted until juicy.
SUPPORTING PROTEIN	Cannellini beans + parsley yogurt. Two supporting sources, each with a different texture.
FIBER	Cannellini beans and carrots. The beans do double duty on protein and fiber.
FINISH	Lemon, parsley yogurt, oregano. Brightens the whole plate with one spoonful.

MEAL THREE • PLATED TWO WAYS

Cook once. Plate for every appetite.

The Portion Smart plate and the family portion come from the same pan. Each receives the chicken, beans, carrots, and yogurt. The amounts differ. The method does not.

PORTION SMART	FAMILY PORTION
Chicken, white beans, carrots, and parsley yogurt, thoughtfully distributed so every meaningful ingredient contributes to the plate.	A larger serving of the same chicken, beans, carrots, and yogurt. Add whole-grain bread if desired. No second dinner required.

The repeatable question.

Does each plate still have dispersed protein and fiber, no matter its size? Did the Portion Smart plate get a little of each meaningful part?

What to keep on hand for this dinner.

ITEM	AMOUNT	NOTE
Bone-in chicken thighs	4 pieces	Bone-in stays juicier through roasting.
Cannellini beans, canned	1 can (15 oz)	Rinse and drain. Add to the pan in the last five minutes.
Carrots	3 medium	Sliced on the diagonal. They cook at the same rate as the chicken.
Plain Greek yogurt	1/4 cup	Low-fat. Mixed with parsley for the finish. Same yogurt as Meals 1 and 2.
Fresh parsley	Small bunch	Chopped and stirred into the yogurt. Brightens the whole plate.
Lemon	1	Sliced and roasted alongside the chicken.
Dried oregano and olive oil	To season	Rub on the chicken before roasting.

Olive oil and dried oregano	Used together in Meal 8 and Dinner A. One small bottle and one jar covers both.

READY FOR THE FULL GUIDE?

The complete system for when nothing sounds good.

You have just seen how the Protein Flip™ method works in real life.

Not with a complicated recipe.

Not with a perfect plate.

With practical meals you can actually make when appetite is low and deciding what to eat feels harder than it should.

The full When Nothing Sounds Good guide gives you the rest of the system, so you do not have to keep starting from scratch.

Inside the full guide.

WHAT YOU GET	HOW IT HELPS
The complete Appetite Compass	Find a meal by temperature, texture, effort, and flavor so you can start with what sounds possible right now.
20 chef-built Protein Flip™ meals	Cold breakfasts, five-minute savory plates, warm soft meals, portable meals, and flexible options that feel complete without becoming another cooking project.
Five family dinners plated two ways	Cook once and plate for a Portion Smart appetite and a family portion without making a second dinner.
A grocery map that works smarter	Shop connected ingredients that turn into multiple meals instead of buying random items that do not come together.
The When Hunger Returns method	Use the same Protein Flip™ structure as appetite changes so the plate grows without losing balance, flavor, or satisfaction.

Why people want the full guide.

Because the hard part is usually not knowing that you should eat. The hard part is knowing what actually sounds good right now and how to make it feel complete in a few bites.

This guide helps you:

- make faster food decisions
- build in meaningful fiber
- reduce effort without losing satisfaction
- keep protein dispersed across the plate
- use ingredients that work together
- stay at the same table with the rest of the household

If this sampler helped, the full guide will help even more. It is the same approach, expanded into a practical kitchen tool you can return to again and again.
